

Asian Domestic Rookie Award 2021

(Departemen Arsitektur Universitas Atma Jaya Yogyakarta as a Host)

TOPIC

"Contextual Design: Creating Space, Re-interpreting tradition"

To relate space and time, we should be aware of where and when we stand and live. We respond to its surroundings by respecting what is already there. It can be a specific tradition, natural environment, lifestyles, and so on. How about in the Future?

Through this competition, we attempt to challenge students to create creative designs on how the "past" value can be synchronized in the future. What kind of future will be there And What kind of value will exist?

Hopefully, this 10th ACARA (Asian Contest of Architectural Rookie's Award) competition will contribute various creative design, contextually among regions and countries.
